DRIVING DREAMS TOGETHER

In 1996, Tiger Woods and his parents established TGR Foundation on the belief that access and opportunity is the key to unlocking the unlimited potential in a young person's life. Thirty years later, TGR Foundation carries that vision forward through its expanding network of TGR Learning Labs and enhanced programming that serves young people from under-resourced communities.

MORE STUDENTS. EXTENDED REACH. EXPANDING LEGACY.

Thirty years of impact culminated in a year of transformation and growth. In 2026 the TGR Learning Lab Anaheim celebrated its 20th anniversary serving Tiger's hometown with its highest reach to date. The new Lab in Philadelphia finished its first full year of programming, highlighted by an award-winning robotics team. Additional career readiness programming was introduced, aligned with high-demand careers such as healthcare, drones and sports.
